Appleby promotes nine in 2017 promotions round

27 March | 2017

Appleby has announced the promotion of two partners and the appointment of seven lawyers to the position of Counsel

Leading offshore law firm Appleby has announced nine promotions across its Bermuda, Cayman, Hong Kong and Isle of Man offices. All promotions are effective 1 April 2017, save for Sebastian Said who was promoted in January.

Appleby Group Managing Partner, Michael O'Connell said: "These appointments reflect our ambitious growth plans as an independent law firm. All promotions are thoroughly deserved and I am delighted to be congratulating all of my colleagues on their progression and development within the firm. They are extremely talented lawyers who have been strong advocates of the firm's commitment to providing and maintaining a first-class level of service to our clients."

Appleby's new appointments include team members from the Corporate, Dispute Resolution and Private Client & Trusts departments, as well as one appointment made within Appleby's Knowledge Management team.

Appleby Involved in two-thirds of ILS transactions in Bermuda in 2015

Appleby's Bermuda office acted on more than two-thirds of the island's ILS transactions during 2015, including traditional catastrophe bonds and a significant volume of collateralised reinsurance deals. In the article published by Artemis, Partner Brad Adderley comments on the significant role Appleby had in acting on majority of the ILS transactions in 2015.

Bermuda's regulation enhances business opportunities

Bermuda's mature, sophisticated regulatory environment has aided its development into a world-leading hub for reinsurance and ILS business, and according to Partner Brad Adderley, who participated in Artemis' recent executive roundtable event, change in regulation has enhanced business opportunities, not diminished them.

Family Offices and the Bermuda Proposition

Associate Ashley Fife outlines the role and location choices of the family office, with Bermuda being an attractive jurisdiction to establish a single or multi-family office.
