OVERVIEW

ABOUT BERMUDA

BERMUDA IS ONE OF THE WORLD'S LEADING FINANCIAL CENTRES – AND ONE OF THE LARGEST RE/INSURANCE MARKETS – WITH A LONG HISTORY OF PROVIDING SOPHISTICATED FINANCIAL AND PROFESSIONAL SERVICES TO INTERNATIONAL BUSINESSES WHILE MAINTAINING A RESPECTED TRACK RECORD OF TRANSPARENCY AND REGULATORY EFFECTIVENESS.

Bermuda is known as a global insurance and reinsurance hub and blue-chip jurisdiction supported by a world-class advisory and financial services infrastructure. This includes a sophisticated legal system, robust regulatory framework, speed-to-market capability, business-friendly government, simple tax regime, close proximity to the US and highly-skilled workforce.

The Island complies with the highest of worldwide standards on anti-money laundering and financial crimes, as reported in 2020 by the Caribbean Financial Action Task Force (CFATF) and the global inter-governmental Financial Action Task Force. In addition, the US State Department has rated Bermuda in its 'lowest risk' category for national security, money laundering and financial system risk.

An independent regulatory body, the Bermuda Monetary Authority (BMA), regularly reviews financial regulations and legislation to ensure the jurisdiction remains compatible with the highest of international and industry-setting standards. Recent examples include: updating the Economic Substance Act; introducing three new insurance classes; implementing a Digital Asset Business framework; establishing a Financial Technology hub; amending Bermuda's Insurance Act to make supervisory provisions for internationally active insurance groups; and legislating cyber reporting requirements.

Bermuda is one of two countries to have achieved full equivalence for the European Union's Solvency II Directive; one of three countries to hold Reciprocal Jurisdiction Status by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC), the US standard setting and regulatory support organisation; and an active participant and member of the International Association of Insurance Supervisors, an international standard-setting board.

The Island's reputation and financial regulations are further enhanced due to being the first and only offshore Jurisdiction granted 'Qualified Jurisdiction' status by the NAIC, along with its membership in the International Organisation of Securities Commissions, and its inclusion on the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development's (OECD) list of approved jurisdictions. Bermuda also has in place 41 bilateral Tax Information Exchange Agreements, more than 125 multilateral treaty partners, US FATCA reporting requirements and OECD Common Reporting Standards.

Bermuda's thriving re/insurance sector helps to respond to devastating and costly natural disasters, making it the largest supplier of catastrophe reinsurance to US insurers and a key jurisdiction in the global insurance market. According to ABIR (Association of Bermuda Insurers & Reinsurers), the Island's re/insurers have paid out more than quarter of a trillion dollars in claims over the last 20 years arising from both natural and man-made disasters in the US and European Union alone. From 2016-2020, Bermuda's global re/insurers paid US$209.6 billion, US$35.2 billion and US$29.3 billion to US, UK and European Union policyholders and cedants, respectively, for large catastrophes, property and casualty losses, and life insurance claims.

The Island is at the forefront in developing alternative forms of risk financing, such as insurance-linked securities (ILS) and collateralised reinsurance, which also respond to major market events. Bermuda is the leading global domicile for ILS with the total number of ILS-listed securities in 2021 valued at $50.08 billion. New ILS listings increased to 281 (11%) during the same year.

Given its increasingly crucial role in the global market by providing re/insurance and ILS capacity, Bermuda is also championing efforts to address climate risk challenges and offer protection to the most vulnerable communities in developing countries affected by such devastating disasters.

Bermuda set the stage for developing the island's FinTech sector in early 2018 with a legal and regulatory framework that created a welcoming and stable environment for those operating in the evolving global FinTech space. Bermuda is leading the way in the formation of new Digital Assets with the most progressive ICO (initial coin offering) and digital assets legislation introduced in 2018 and 2020.

Bermuda's commitment to fostering innovative solutions within the financial services sector continued in 2019 with the launch of an Insurance Regulatory Sandbox and Innovation Hub to advance insurance technology (InsurTech) needs. Reinsurance companies and new InsurTech companies now have a platform to pilot, test and launch their product before entering the market.

Bermuda also joined the Global Financial Innovation Network, a group of 29 international organisations providing a platform for innovative firms to interact with regulators and to test high-tech products, services or business models across more than one jurisdiction.
